

AN ALL STAR SHOW with Bing Crosby as Master of ceremonies brought out a capacity audience to the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi, and raised approximately $20,000 for the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Palm Desert. All Desert communities joined in the benefit show, both on stage and in the audience. Crosby, Honorary Mayor of Palm Desert, was aided in his emcee duties by Phil Harris, Honorary Mayor of Rancho Mirage. Vote for Mayor May Be Delayed

Palm Springs City Council tonight may elect a new mayor, and then again, because of a strange definition of the law, vice mayor Frank Miller may fill the vacancy being left by Mayor Jerry Sanborn, and may become mayor for tonight.

The strange circumstances came to light after City attorney Jerry Bunker reported to councilmen yesterday that selection of the new mayor may be delayed if councilman-elect George Beebe is not present tonight to be sworn into office.

THE FAILURE OF Beebe to be sworn into office, combined with the fact that Frank Miller must stay in office until the newly elected councilman can officially be certified to the council, and being that he is vice mayor of the City of Palm Springs, automatically puts the chairmanship of the council into his hands.

City administrators said today that they do not know whether or not Beebe will be present tonight, due to the death of his mother.

Funeral services for Mrs. George Beebe, Sr., were held this morning at Our Lady of Solitude.

COUNCILMEN, BOTH elect and in office, expressed the opinion that Palm Springs should definitely have a mayor who can take over his duties immediately during Desert Circus Week.

Most popular man for mayor seems to be councilman-elect Frank Bogert, who has the support of the newly elected councilmen as well as some members of the council, and, according to political observers, veteran councilman Ted McKinney has a "good chance" to become vice mayor.

AS CONFUSING AS the outlook may be today, actually the procedure is quite routine. The council (the old one) will meet tonight at 7:30 to canvass the ballot of the councilmanic election and to count the absentee ballots.

Following the canvass, the new councilmen are installed and then may elect a mayor. In the event that Councilman Beebe fails to appear at the meeting tonight, the council may decide to put off until the next session the choosing of a mayor.

CITY CLERK MARY Gene Ringwald reported today that 21 absentee ballots have been returned to her office, but none of them can change any of the election returns.

New Bowling Alley to Be Presented to City Planners

An application for architectural approval of a building in the M-1 zone on East Ramon Road, which will be used for a bowling alley, heads the agenda for the Wednesday meeting of the Palm Springs Planning Commission.

The application was made for the permit was by Charles Vander Ploeg, and the building will be located on Williams Road in Section 19.

OTHER MATTERS before the commission will include three hearings, one which may be continued until the commission's next meeting at the request of Planning Director Hy Ranes.

The hearings will be on amendments for height limitations in R-1 zones; an amendment of sections of the Palm Springs Ordinance code which control parking provisions; and the one which may be continued, an application by Dorothy Glatter and Charlotte Phillips for a change of zone from R-1a to R-2 in Vista Acres.

RANES IS EXPECTED to make the request because of additional adjoining property making a similar request and he wants them decided by the commission at the same time.

Other zoning matters, as well as roadway vacating will be before the commission. Earle Strebe has made application for architectural approval for a new front on the Farmers Market.

Frank Brewster Verdict Reversed

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Court of Appeals today reversed the contempt of Congress conviction of Frank Brewster, former boss of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

The court ruled 2 to 1 that the Senate Investigations Subcommittee which called Brewster to testify in January, 1957, had exceeded its authority.

THE COURT ALSO reversed a similar conviction in the case of Nugent Lapoma, former secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 174 in Seattle, who also refused to testify before the subcommittee.

Brewster, who was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000—the maximum penalty—has been out on bond pending outcome of the appeal.

Lapoma had been fined $1,000 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

BREWSTER HAD refused to answer questions about union financial matters before the subcommittee. He had contended that it lacked jurisdiction to conduct its investigation. He later testified for four days before the Senate Rackets Committee on Teamsters affairs.

The majority opinion written by Judge David L. Bazelon, held that if the subcommittee would investigate misuse of union funds it would have jurisdiction to investigate "virtually every activity engaged in by every person in the land."

JUDGE E. BARRETT Prettyman joined Bazelon in the majority opinion.

In a strong dissent, former Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed said the union invaded legislative prerogatives and hampered congressional investigation.

"Congress alone has the authority to decide the scope of a committee's jurisdiction," Reed said. "It is only when the scope of the authority granted is uncertain or beyond constitutional power that the judiciary may intervene to protect a constitutional witness."

First Texas Contingent Due Today

Private Plane To Bring Group For Circus Week

Palm Springs was today ready to welcome the advance guard of a "Texas invasion" as Texans by the plane load prepared to join in the 22nd annual Desert Circus.

First contingent of the traveling Texans was due to arrive via private plane at Palm Springs Airport at 3 p.m. today.

THE PUBLIC IS invited to join the reception committee and launch the "Palm Springs Salute to Texas."

As they shaped final arrangements for the 18 Desert Circus events scheduled to start tomorrow, Circus Co-Chairman Ray Ryan and Mac MacDonald noted that a new Circus facet—"the $100 Club"—is rapidly growing into a fair-sized organization.

Latest members to join the club, formed by those contributing $100 or more towards Circus activities and thereby to charities, are Clark and Kay Gable, Bob and Andrea Howard, Bill and Mary Gargan, Tony Martin and Jack Sullivan.

Other new members are Jack Meiselman, Joe Hall, Ernie Dunlevie, Tony Burke, Waltha Clarke, Seottie Rubin and Lester Selig.

Young Parents Face Charges Of Abandonment

Two young La Puente parents today faced court action after their apparent addition to sports car road races led them into jail on child abandonment charges.

Charged with leaving their six-month-old twin sons alone in a car while they attended the airport road races Sunday were Robert Newman, 24, and his wife, Joann, 19.

Mrs. Newman told police she left her youngsters in their father's care while she went off to keep scores for race officials.

But Newman decided to watch the races too, police said, and wandered off, leaving the youngsters alone in the Newman car.

Officer Darwin B. Mullins spotted the twins in the car, hustled them off to Desert Hospital and started searching for the parents.

Both are now facing action in Palm Springs Justice Court. The Newmans were released on their own recognizance pending court hearing.

RECESSION MOVE TAKEN LOCALLY BY PLAZA MOTORS

A move to stop any possible recession, which has been blamed partially on high new car prices, was launched today by Plaza Motors Cadillac-Oldsmobile in a color advertisement on Page 8B of today's Desert Sun.

The ad announced the Spring Sale of 17 new cars "at a fraction above factory invoice."

"We believe in taking any move necessary to stop any recession trend," Ed McCoubrey, owner, and Leo Athans, manager, said, "and this is the best way possible by stimulating buying."

The sale will continue for one week.

A WEE BIT OF TEXAS is now part of Palm Springs. A young pecan tree, Texas' state tree and a gift of Texas Governor Price Daniel, was planted in Tamarisk Park yesterday as Palm Springs busied itself with final preparations for Desert Circus "Salute to Texas" Week starting tomorrow. Officiating at the tree planting in a plot of ground shaped like the map of Texas and covered by white gravel, were, left to right, Trav Rogers, Desert Circus Association representative, Palm Spring Mayor Jerry Sanborn and Don Crabtree, Palm Springs Mayor Jerry Sanborn and Don Crabtree 48-year cycle of salutes to every state in the union, all of whom will have their state tree planted in Tamarisk Park.

Ammonia Truck Overturns on Freeway Today

BLOOMINGTON, Calif. — An ammonia tank-truck overturned on the San Bernardino Freeway today, killing the driver and forcing residents in the area to evacuate their homes when the chemical poured from its tank.

California Highway Patrol Officer Richard McClellan was overcome by the ammonia fumes and taken to Kaiser Hospital at Fontana for treatment.

Missing Woman Search Halted

Sheriff's posse from Banning, Indio, Hemet and Idyllwild, and reserve officers from Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs and Cathedral City joined forces to search unsuccessfully for a 32-year-old Cathedral City woman who left her home, husband and three children Saturday night and has not been seen since.

She was identified by Lt. Ed Brown of the Sheriff's substation in Banning as Mrs. Wyona (Jerry) Dunham, 5 feet 5 inches tall, who was wearing dark slacks, dark blouse and a vertically striped sweater at the time of her disappearance.

THE SEARCHERS called off the hunt after two days of checking possibilities that the woman, who had between $10 and $50 in her possession, may have gone to visit relatives or friends.

According to Lt. Brown, this is

Social 'Card' Club to Be Used By Maher as Furniture Store

Bobby Garcia's new Silver Palms Social Club today took on an entirely different look, and instead of the clank of ships falling into a poker pot, the sounds of moving furniture are coming from the plush gambling casino.

Dick Maher, owner and operator of the Maher Factory Outlet store for home furnishings, has received permission from both Garcia and from owner Louis Lenzer to use the building for a furniture store.

OPEN NOW FOR business, the building is filled with chairs and couches, end tables and lamps of all kinds and descriptions.

Every square inch of the building is being used for the storage of furniture, including a back room where green-felt covered tables and chairs are piled high to the ceiling for a future possible use in the Social Club.

UNCHANGED BY THE newly installed merchandise, are the fabulous paintings hanging on the wall, the ceiling to floor mirrors that are on each side of the main room, the brilliant red carpet that covers the floor of the main casino, and the ever tell - tale guard booth with its peepholes for the guards and its cashiers cage.

The public again is invited to the luxury place, just as it was a month ago to inspect the Silver Palms Social Club, only this time it will be for a grand opening sale tomorrow, not for cocktails and a chance to join a card club.

ON HORSEBACK, on foot, and in jeeps, searchers combed every inch of Cathedral Canyon above the Chatsworth tract, and out into the flat desert country as far away as Ramon Road and Highway 60-70-99.

They also kept busy checking taxi services, bus lines, hotels, apartments and bars for the missing woman.

Mrs. Dunham is well known in Palm Springs, having worked at several restaurants as a waitress.

Park Director Don Crabtree Resigns Post

Don Crabtree, director of parks and recreation for the City of Palm Springs, has resigned that position in a letter to City Manager Robert W. Peterson.

Peterson today confirmed the resignation.

CRABTREE GAVE as his reason for resigning the job that he has held for just one year, the press of other business interests and commitments, but no further explanation.

Crabtree's resignation becomes effective on April 30.

Simple Mistake

Two Arrested On Car Charge

Failure to make a simple boulevard stop today landed two young Twentynine Palms Marines in city jail for auto theft charges and investigation of a possible burglary count.

One youth, found in possession of a Village businessmen wallet and credit cards, admitted taking a car that hasn't yet been reported stolen, police said today.

THE MARINES, John William Meredith Jr., 19, and Jean Paul Crisman, also 19, were stopped by Officer Robert Flavin when they failed to halt for a boulevard stop sign last night.

Meredith, who claimed he purchased his car from a friend for $900, was unable to produce registration and Flavin bundled both youths and a companion off to the police station.

Dulles Says Endangering World Peace

Adds That U. S. Ready to Start Pre-Summit Talks

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today charged that Russia is endangering world peace by prostituting diplomacy for propaganda purposes.

Dulles, in an angry outburst at his news conference, used the words prostitution and debauchery in describing Soviet use of diplomacy.

DULLES EMPHASIZED nevertheless that the United States is prepared to sit down with Russia at pre-summit meetings at any time to press for peace.

He said he hopes that such pre-summit ambassadorial talks will begin in Moscow in a few days. But he did not know the exact day. He said the west is still working on a reply to the latest Soviet communication suggesting the discussions start Tuesday.

DULLES SAID THE Soviet Union for the first time in world history has debauched and prostituted the diplomatic machinery for pure propaganda purposes. He said he believes this is one of the most dangerous developments that could effect world peace.

If they are going to destroy this machinery, Dulles said, the Russians may have to pay a heavy price for what they are doing. He said the Soviets may destroy a frail reed of sincere diplomacy upon which world peace rests.

Innocent Pleas

Entered for Wollam Brothers

Union Attorney Lionel Richman today entered a plea of innocent in Palm Springs Judicial District court for defendants Joe and Tutor Wollam, arrested last month on charges of disturbing the peace and failure to desist at the order of a police officer.

Polls to Remain

Open to 7 p.m.

Polls will be open until 7 p.m., today, for balloting in the desert junior college governing board election.

Voters in the Palm Springs Unified School District and adjacent area are able to mark ballots at eight polling places for their choice of five out of 19 college board candidates.

THE THIRD MARINE was released, but Crisman and Meredith were held after Meredith unloaded three wallets, one belonging to Alvin Weingarten, and admitted stealing the car here Saturday night, police reported.

Weingarten's home at 318 Via Altamira was burglarized March 2 and his car was later looted by thieves. Police believe the wallet was either taken from Weingarten's home or car.

Meredith, however, claimed he took the wallet from another car Saturday night. Owner of the car Meredith admitted stealing is unknown, but officers found a Nevada license plate in the trunk.

Stompanato's Family Discusses $-Million Suit Against Lana to 'Clear Johnny's Name'

WOODSTOCK, Ill. — An attorney for Johnny Stompanato's family said Monday night he may bring a million-dollar damage suit against film star Lana Turner to "clear Johnny's name."

Charles Parker, a Woodstock attorney, said "steps will very definitely be taken" to defend the character of Stompanato, who was knifed to death April 5 by Miss Turner's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl Crane.

THE ATTORNEY SAID he would not file the suit until he had studied a transcript of the inquest into Stompanato's death and reports from his own private investigators in Los Angeles who are making a "thorough investigation."

Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton A. Anderson, who charged that Stompanato preyed on wealthy women, also may be sued for slander, the attorney said.

A CORONER'S JURY ruled at an inquest last Friday that Cheryl committed justifiable homicide when she fatally stabbed Stompanato during a quarrel in the bedroom of her mother's mansion.

THE TRANSCRIPT OF THE inquest was sent to the Stompanato family by ex-gambler Mickey Cohen, who once hired Stompanato as a bodyguard.

PARKER SAID HE was acting on behalf of a "very, very nice family in this area." He said he represents Stompanato's stepmother, Verena, a beauty shop operator here, and brother, Carmine, a barber.

The damage suit, Parker said, would be filed in the name of Stompanato's son, John Jr., 10, who lives in Hammond, Ind., with his mother, Sarah. The couple was divorced in 1948.

Parker would not specify the exact nature of the possible suit.

Pictured with the champ is Jan Carlisle of Palm Springs, and Mike Hamilton, publicity and advertising director for the Sports Car Club. Whiteman, who becomes as excited over sports cars as he does over good music, is a strong proponent of professional sports car racing. He believes there should be three sports car racing classes, amateur, novice, and experienced professionals. Whiteman is visiting in Palm Springs before returning to his home in New York, and is staying locally at the Lone Palm Hotel. Teachers Given Favorable Tax Ruling in Time

A new Treasury Department ruling allows school teachers to deduct voluntarily incurred expenses for further education from their taxable income. Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder said today.

Muelder said that the ruling, retroactive to 1954, will affect from 30 to 40 per cent of the district staff every year.

Under the new ruling, teachers who go to summer school or take special courses for self-improvement may deduct expenses for such schooling, even if it is not required as a condition for holding their jobs.

Muelder noted that the official announcement came barely in time for teachers to revise their tax returns before today's filing deadline.

Since the rule is retroactive to 1954, Muelder pointed out, it is necessary to file information pertaining to 1954 educational expenses before midnight tonight.

Meany Backs Truman's Tax Cut Formula

LOS ANGELES — President George Meany of the AFL-CIO today backed former President Harry Truman's proposal to cut income taxes by 5 billion dollars.

The powerful labor leader told newsmen on arrival here Monday that Truman was "absolutely right" in his plan to give tax relief to low and middle income groups.

Meany said a tax cut would put purchasing power in the hands of consumers and give the nation's economy a shot in the arm.

The union chief was here for a series of conferences on the merger of the AFL and CIO in California.

Drive Parking Regulations Set During Parade

Palm Springs police today warned motorists that no parking signs will go up on a long segment of Palm Canyon Drive for Saturday's big Desert Circus parade.

Chief August G. Kettmann said that Palm Canyon Drive will be blocked off from Baristo to Alejo Road from early morning until the end of the parade.

Early arriving parade viewers were asked to park off Palm Canyon.

ACCLAIM NEW GLASSES

Erase the 'Over 40' Look of Bifocals

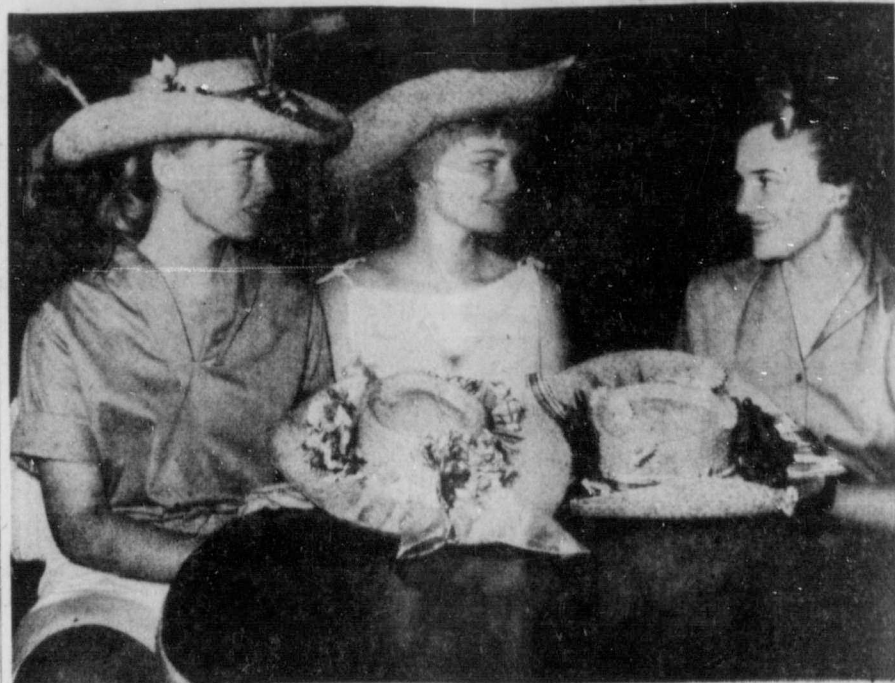

Thanks to the new No-Line Glasses—the latest achievement of optical science—it's no longer necessary to wear bifocal glasses that "tattle" your age.

These new glasses provide correct vision for both reading and distance—without the annoying dividing line that make ordinary bifocals a badge of age. There is no shadow on the face, no "jumping" or discomfort caused by the noticeable dividing line of the old-fashioned bifocal lens.

Nationwide tests prove that the new No-Line Glasses are easy to wear, and help avoid confusion in walking, driving, or climbing stairs.

Youth Center's Do-It-Yourself Club Starts With Timely Project, Palm Springs Hats

The Youth Center's Do-It-Yourself Club, sponsored by Mrs. B. H. Pollak, started this week with a timely project—making a Palm Springs Hat for Desert Circus Week.

The first meeting of the group was held Monday night, with future meetings on Monday nights.

ALL GIRLS ATTENDING the class brought along the necessary supplies, a straw hat, ribbon, flowers and scarves.

Instructor is Mrs. Lois McCrystal, 37-271 Cathedral Canyon Drive, Cathedral City.

The "Palm Springs Hat" was originated during the first Desert Circus held in the spring of 1946 after the end of World War II.

THE PALM SPRINGS Riders Club always decorated their hats with wild spring flowers as they went riding along the beautiful trails.

As the circus came around, they always wore a western costume. They did not have time to pick wild flowers. Instead they trimmed their hats with nasturtiums and ribbons and thus attracted, they rode in the parade. This caused a sensation.

Liquor Sales Not Affected

Police Chief August G. Kettmann announced today that on-sale and off-sale beer and liquor establishments may remain open today during the Junior College election of a board of trustees.

This is in line with the new state law passed last year, he explained.

The doldrums are stretches of ocean, between the trade wind belts, where the air is quiet and sultry. Cyclones and frequent squalls originate there. The horse latitudes, calms near the Tropics of Cancer and Capricorn, are regions of light, variable winds.

PEOPLE TRIED TO buy similar hats but, of course, they were not available in stores. However, as a consequence, the local stores did sell artificial flowers, ribbons and straw hats. This may have been the origin of the "Do-It-Yourself" craze.

Back in 1946 when straw hats came in only one design, the Desert Riders exercised ingenuity and soaked the hats in a swimming pool and then shaped them to suit their fancy, and then trimmed them.

As the "Palm Springs Hat" caught on, people began to decorate their hats with all sorts of crazy things. These are called "Zany Hats." The true "Palm Springs Hat," started during the 1946 Desert Circus, is decorated with ribbons and flowers only.

1,000 Children Given Anti-Polio Injections Here

Almost 1,000 Palm Springs school pupils received anti-polio vaccine injections in the school district's recent inoculation program, school officials said today.

Paul Summit, district special services director, said the youngsters received either first, second or final injections in the last of a series of school inoculation programs.

SUMMIT OFFERED the district's thanks to organizations and physicians who gave their time, equipment and services to the program.

Serum for the polio injections was donated by the Riverside County Medical Association and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Palm Springs Rotary Club donated disposal syringes and needles. Desert Hospital supplied sterile equipment, local physicians donated their time and school and county nurses assisted.

LOCAL PARENT-teacher organization members assisting at the various schools were Mrs. Ted Griffith, Mrs. Clarence Macy, Mrs. Alvin Allerdice, Mrs. Charles Manthey, Mrs. Leon Hand, Mrs. Charles Caves, Mrs. Cy Oistad, Mrs. Lester Hurst and Mrs. Oran Deal.

Summit expressed particular appreciation for the disposable syringes and needles which, he said, were a great convenience, increased sanitation and reduced the danger of infection.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE Choir of Spokane, Wash., under the direction of Milton Johnson, above, will present a concert in the Community Church of Palm Springs at 8 p.m. tonight, Tuesday. The public is invited. Two local students are appearing with the group, Dick Blackstone and Kent Werges.

Brand Extends Campaign To Desert Communities

Ralph E. Brand, candidate for Riverside County Superintendent of Schools, expanded his campaign to the desert area last week, visiting all desert communities and conferring on local and county problems.

Of great interest to him was the number of people who are concerned about the new Junior College and the election of trustees, which is being held today.

Principal of Mt. View elementary school, Riverside.

In his campaign, Brand stresses his qualifications as a teacher and administrator, with 21 years of service spaced in elementary, junior and senior high schools and junior colleges.

His campaign manager for this area is Robert Hillery of Cathedral City.

THIS INTEREST, he said, was in all areas, including Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Desert Hot Springs, Palm Desert and Indio.

Brand himself taught in Riverside College from 1946 through 1950, and also served as coordinator of student extra-curricular activities. He also was an instructor in a Kansas junior college prior to entering army service.

AT PRESENT BRAND is a teacher at Riverside Polytechnic High School. He is a former principal.

Voters Certainly Take Interest in Elections

The voters of Palm Springs certainly take an interest in their councilmanic elections as was clearly evidenced last Tuesday.

And, it must be admitted there have been some very interesting elections in that special category.

The elections last Tuesday was no exception.

With seven candidates in one precinct vying for the toga of office it is possible that a new record was established in that particular district alone.

And, we can be sure that it is not the "pay" which attracts the contestants, but a burning desire to be of service to our most distinctly different type of community.

Like all good Americans, when the balloting is over and the results made public, we re-unite and consolidate our forces and march forward to achieve even better and greater things for Palm Springs.

With three new members on the board of seven, it is assured that many fresh and new ideas and viewpoints will be in evidence at Council meetings during the next several years.

ing the next several years.

And, judging from the reports we hear, we may have a mayor who is well known as a colorful western personality, and who can be counted upon to do a great publicity job for Palm Springs as well as take a sincere and serious attitude towards the many things most needed to keep pace with our rapid growth and future planning in this desert paradise.

Public thanks and appreciation are due to the outgoing members and all councilmen of previous years for their free, willing and valuable service in behalf of the community.

The good will and support of the electorate follows the newly elected councilmen into office to the end that their plans, efforts and decisions in chartering the future course and conduct of the City will be wise, sound, constructive, effective and beneficial to the entire populace.

The omens and prospects for rapid advance and improvement throughout Palm Springs have never been better or brighter.

The Theft of a Gem

WASHINGTON, D. C.—There goes the Eighth Amendment! Everybody knows how the Constitution's Fifth Amendment ("No person... shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself...") was destroyed by ill-use.

Well, just before Easter, Chief Justice Warren set a precedent which could rob us of another gem in our American heritage. In giving his opinion that Congress could not take away the citizenship of a military deserter, the Chief Justice cited as his authority the Eighth Amendment, which reads:

"EXCESSIVE BAIL shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted."

The Chief Justice contended that Congress was practicing "cruel and unusual punishments" in the Nationality Act of 1940. This law declared that an armed forces deserter, having been convicted with all the protections in our system of justice, no longer is an American citizen.

THIS USE OF the "cruel and unusual" phrase is something that periodically turns up in a smart aleck column or in the plea of a desperate attorney whose client has one foot inside the gas chamber. You don't expect it from the Supreme Court.

The drafters of the Eighth Amendment were trying to write in a safety-catch that would prevent the American government from visiting inhuman atrocities upon prisoners, as was an official practice in the Old World. The first Congress which passed the measure, George Washington who signed it, the States which concurred in making the Amendment part of the Constitution, could hardly imagine that a future Chief Justice would wrench the phrase out of its meaning.

THINK IT OVER! The Constitution forbids the Federal Government to gouge out a man's eyeballs, or to feed his liver to the vultures, or to do any of the heartless and indecent things that Spanish kings and Chinese war lords did to political captives.

So, more than a century afterwards, a Chief Justice reasons that the same Amendment prevents Congress from de-nationalizing a convicted deserter. That would be "cruel and unusual," like slicing off a traitor's ears or branding him as a convict.

BUT WHAT WOULD seem incredible in 1791, when the Bill of Rights went into effect, is today tolerated, though not with approval, as a commonplace abuse. Last October-November the enterprising Indianapolis "Star" ran a series of editorials called "The Runaway Court," tracing the mad rush of the headless horsemen under Earl Warren.

The response was astounding. Hundreds of lawyers, jurists, legislators and newspaper publishers wrote in to express agreement with the editorial series and disapproval of the Supreme Court.

IN FEBRUARY, 1958, National Review magazine analyzed the voting on 10 recent Supreme Court cases which bore upon internal security of the United States. The record is staggering to look upon. Three Supreme Court members voted against protecting their country's internal security in all 10 cases. Only one Supreme Court member did more than break even.

The three who used every opportunity to strike down precautions against enemy subversion were Messrs. Warren, Black and Douglas. Justice Clark stands out as a dissenter against this trend. Clark cast 7 votes for internal security measures and 2 against them.

THIS SUMMARY, of course, did not include the opinions given last month on citizenship. But the same line-up held. Justices

Black and Douglas joined the Chief Justice, as did Justices Whitaker and Brennan, relative newcomers.

It seems certain that the United States is to be deprived of the basic right of self-preservation as long as Mr. Warren remains the intellectual leader of the Supreme Court. Mr. Warren's forceful personality, and evidently his concept of judicial duty, are shaping history in a way that is not good for our side.

What can we do about it? The Constitution very wisely makes it extremely difficult to remove Justices. This remedy is not practical and probably not desirable. The Senate is very determined not to confirm any more "legislating" judges, for high or lower courts. This in time will rectify the judiciary, provided that Senators do not backslide in their resolve.

BUT MEANWHILE, a sickness keeps eating into America. The Supreme Court is only one of many daily symptoms which show how listlessly we cling to our life as a nation. The fierce will-to-live has left many parts of our body politic.

The man-in-the-street who can't see why President Eisenhower should shun a meeting at the Summit; the greedy merchant who thinks we should trade with Red China; the pacifist who prefers to give up H-bomb supremacy rather than live dangerously as a sovereign nation; the sentimentalist, the seduced internationalist tramp and the Supreme Court Justice who believes that non-Americans are just as important as Americans—all these, I would consider it self-evident, have no quivering passion to see the USA endure.

Well, any doctor can tell you what happens to a very sick man who doesn't want with all his might to live. It can happen, and often has happened, to an ailing nation, too.—Holmes Alexander.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to "The Wife Who Knows" who suggests you send the Vice Squad to the offices to clean up the dirt. I will make a deal with her. If she doesn't send the Vice Squad to the office, I won't send them to the home. I needn't cite Kinsey statistics on the shennanigans that take place on the home front. Ask any mailman, milkman or TV repair man who carries his services into the home. And to the executive, whose wife is suspicious of what goes on between him and his secretary I say, "Be patient with her. She must be sick." A SECRETARY WHO REALLY KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the quiet type but last night he blew his top. He has been eating my rhubarb pie for 20 years and never said a word. It happens to be my favorite. All of a sudden he started to yell all over the place that he never cared for rhubarb pie and why did I make them all the time? He hurt my feelings and I cried all night. Do you think I was in the wrong or was he?

RHUBARB PIE MAKER
DEAR R. P. M.: If a man doesn't like something he should mention it early in the marriage. A wife is no mind reader. Let him eat cake!

DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married and between her side and our side there will be 230 guests. The bride and groom wanted to put "No Children" on the invitations but we didn't think it would look right. Anyway, both sides make it plain we didn't want children because if we had them it would mean about 60 more. It's got back to us that if the children can't come the parents won't come either. It seems to me if the parents were invited for a night out they'd pay for a baby sitter and go. Why can't they do it for our wedding?

GROOM'S MOTHER
DEAR MOM: Those who want to attend the wedding will hire a sitter. Don't worry about the others.

DEAR ABBY: For my birthday, my boyfriend gave me a hope chest. His aunt told me she never heard of a boy giving a girl a hope chest and if anybody gave it to a girl it should be the parents. Then she said, "Besides, nobody has hope chests anymore—they are old fashioned." Is she right or isn't she?

KITTY
DEAR KITTY: I have heard from hundreds of girls who have received hope chests from their boyfriends as gifts, and I certainly would not call it "old fashioned."

Ah, medicine. A wondrous thing—It now has new T-3. In tablet form You gulp it down

And rebound from that spree. There came good news over the press wires this week for those who are prone to flit, or at least daily, with the gay juice of the corn, the grape or what it takes to relax one's nerves and put a rosy tinge upon life's outlook.

THE MEDICAL WORLD announced successful tests with a new drug, nicknamed T-3, which is short for Triodo-Thyronine. All it does is sober up very intoxicated persons, eliminate hangovers and is effective in treatment of the D-Ts.

Dr. Henry Koch Jr. outlined the workings of the drug before Los Angeles newsmen and they were unanimous in pronouncing it a real "wonder" drug.

DR. KOCH SAID the drug was tried on a youth who had passed out after drinking 18 martinis. That he did was no wonder but what the drug did, is.

The doctor said that after one T-3 tablet, the subject came in 10 minutes and a second pill brought him back to normal—without a hangover.

He added that the drug is no cure for alcoholism.

BUT SAID that after taking T-3 for some time, many patients drink less. They do not feel the need for it.

What's more, it was reported, it's possible to pop one of these T-3s into your mouth before drinking and you won't get drunk.

At least, that's what the doctor said. So now you take T-3 before T martinites and you're o.k. But I predict that if and when, that drug goes on the market, some people are going to be trampled in the rush.

WELL, TOMORROW starts the 22nd Annual Desert Circus. And we all should be able to enjoy it to the hilt. For we have paid Uncle Sam his tribute and also Big Brother up at Sacramento.

Today is the deadline for federal and state income tax returns and unless we goofed somewhere along the line, tomorrow should be a tranquil day with nothing to stand in the way of full enjoyment of the circus.

IT WAS A BRIGHT Sunday morning and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Olson and daughter Chris were driving home from church. Chris, around five years of age, was strangely quiet.

"What's on your mind?" asked Neil.

"Well, daddy, I know who the Father is and I know who the Son is and about the Holy Ghost. But, daddy, who is Amen?"

ABOUT TIME to remind you that the next month is May. And May is about the best month there is on the desert although all of them are better than most any place else.

And June's not at all bad. Stay through May and you'll know what I mean.

P. S.—Wouldn't it be great to have the Palm Springs territorial rights for T-3?

STAN DELAPLAINE'S Postcard

Casting about for the aims and ideals of the old Chicago Times, Mr. Storey, the Civil War editor, issued this ringing policy.

"The duty of a newspaper is to print the news and raise hell. Let's go to press."

I HOLD THAT is the only way to make coffee is camp fire style. Boil the water in an enameled pan; toss in a handful of coffee measured by dead reckoning and talented instinct; clap on a cover and let it sit for one minute. OFF the fire and NOE boiling.

A dash of cold water to settle the grounds and pour.

WELL, IN THESE decadent days we have people straining coffee through paper filters. And electric pots that go on and off according to the temperature of the brew. A pity.

The beauty of camp fire coffee is that it is never electrified. And if you want your coffee to taste like paper, you could chew a few sheets of bond while you swallow.

I am also against serving it out of silver pots. Silver pots score with the neighbors. But it discourages the coffee bean.

THE BEST CAMP fire coffee is made in Mexico, up in the cattle country in Sonora. They boil a brown raw sugar and a stick of cinnamon into it and, most important, serve it in a clay pot. An olla.

It is called cafe de olla. At present, I do not think you can get it outside Sonora. Except in San Francisco from Al Williams at the Papagayo Room, a high class tortilla and carne asada emporium. For special requests.

MAYBE ALONG the border in Arizona or New Mexico. And just possibly in Old Town in Albuquerque. Otherwise you must go to some ranch outside Chihuahua or Parral or thereabouts.

My coffee this morning is made camp fire style. I take it out of a pottery mug from Oaxaca, Mexico. I take it with cream and sugar—an absolute crime to the coffee cognoscenti.

HOWEVER, I LEARNED to drink my coffee at sea. Nearly all seamen load their coffee with canned cream and sugar. It is the wakeup and warmup when you go on watch.

Matter of fact, the coffee break was invented on ships. Long before stenographers thought of hustling downstairs at 10:30 a.m. to cut up touches.

I TAKE A FIRM stand against the demi-tasse. Coffee should be served in large mugs—the kind you have to hold with two hands if possible.

I know it is considered more chi-chi in the thin china. My grandma told me that when she was a girl, the most elegant thing you could do was pour the coffee out of your cup and into a saucer. You blew on it delicately before you drank it.

Instant coffee is strictly an emergency ration. Dire emergency.

COFFEE THAT HAS had the caffeine taken out is like taking your sister to a dance. I skip over the nectar of Irish coffee. It depends on the sturdy support of the enclosed Irish coffee. It depends on the only of coffee that stands on its own grounds.

Tea is for Chinese and bridge clubs. Pass the Ovaltine, Josephine.

Coffee, man, that's the drink to drink. Hot as Hades; strong as death; sweet as love. What's your problem?

EARL WILSON:

Marilyn's Men's Garters

NEW YORK—There were two circus openings for New Yorkers to go to:

Ringling's, and the Actors' Studio party at the Waldorf at around 2 A.M. wearing men's garters to hold up her hose because somehow she couldn't find any gals' garters.

Susan Strasberg, 19, attended the latter with Sir Laurence Olivier, and when I inquired how she happened to be with him, she said:

"I asked him!"
Mort Sahl, the brilliant young wit from San Francisco, enchanted the Studio Set by defining a conservative Republican as one "who doesn't believe anything should be tried for the first time." (And a liberal Republican as one who "does believe something should be tried for the first time but not now.")

Just to prove he's not exclusively intellectual, he mentioned a folk singer "who wears a shirt open to the navel and he doesn't have one."

This was all for the premiere of "The Young Lions"—and the most interesting new twosome was: Elsa Maxwell and Aly Khan.

Over at the Garden, all for the Damon Runyon fund, Sugar Ray Robinson and Dagmar stole the show.

Sugar told me he's joining Frank Sinatra in Las Vegas when the latter works at the Sands starting Apr. 9—and that Frankie's going to get him into several movies.

Dagmar got enormous applause at the Garden; as she explained: "It's my size room."

There was no parading by the celebrities at the circus opening. We sort of missed the stunt of a couple of years ago when Toots Shore rode an elephant—or was it the other way around?

Herb Shriner returns to U.S. TV May 1 as a guest on the Pat Boone show (first time in 8 months). He's also opening at the Washington Shoreham. Just back from England, where he did TV. Herb told us in Sardi's that Eddie Condon's was "like somebody'd left the door open in the whole country."

Eddie Condon's new jazz joint at the Sutton serves fine food—quite different from the old Washington Sq. joint where, with every dinner they gave you a stomach pump. So Eddie's getting testimonials from his famous customers about the cuisine. Here are a few: "I ate till I bust" — Jayne Mansfield; "I was a glutton at the Sutton on the table d'hôte"—John Steinbeck; "The ground glass at Eddie Condon's is the coolest and the groundest" — Helen Hayes. Eddie was kind enough to ask me for one and here it is: "I'd dined at some of the very best restaurants in the world before I discovered Eddie Condon's—and I'm going to keep right on doing so."

I read with sadness that spittoons have been removed from the post offices of the land. Back in Rockford, when I was a boy, tobacco-chawers could squirt their shots in from 15 feet. My Uncle Joe Huffman was even more gifted and could loop 'em in over people's heads. And anybody who said "cuspidor" was considered a snob and a showoff.

It's time again to "Remember the Alamo!"

San Antonio friends of mine have invited me back to their colorful "Fiesta San Jacinto" on April 20 to 26—and I wish I could ride once more in their spectacular "Fiesta Flambeau" night parade right down to the Alamo itself.

But I got to work instead. The beautiful program for the fiesta says "San Antonio belongs to the Alamo."

"In 1836 the ancient church gave incredible courage to 187 men within her fold. These men looked out upon a dictator's army 3,000 strong. In the other direction was life, love, laughter. The handful of men chose to die rather than surrender."

"A few days later—at San Jacinto—the Texans' courage struck down the arrogant tyrant's army, tore it apart, while crying 'Remember the Alamo!'... The victory provided a shining beacon of inspiration for the oppressed throughout the world."

I can't be there the big night, but methinks I'll reread the Alamo history, gulp a double shot of bourbon and yell "Yipppeeet!" instead...

WISH I'D SAID THAT:

'Up at the Villa' Deal Off

HOLLYWOOD — Lana Turner's deal to star in Ted Richmond's production of "Up at the Villa" — as the murderer! — has been called OFF, and for obvious reasons.

Virginia Military Institute is all-out to help 20th-Fox film Pat Boone's next movie, "Mardi Gras," and 20th is all out too—$2,000,000. HOLLYWOOD'S MASQUERS' Club will bust loose with a big brawl for Dinah Shore April 25, first time the show-biz boys have ever tossed a testimonial for a distaff TV star — Warner Bros., buoyed by all that boots-&-saddle boogie from their Cheyenne, Colt 45, Maverick and Sugarfoot filmseries, started shooting ANOTHER oat opera, Laramie, starring John Russell and Peter Brown. Tax Increase Exceeds Growth In Population

Hard-pressed property owners in Riverside county have just finished paying the second half of a property tax bill for 1957-58 which averages, county-wide, $108.33 for every man, woman, and child in the county, S. J. Arnold, general manager of California Taxpayers' association, said today.

The second half of the 1957-58 property tax bill was delinquent April 10, he stated.

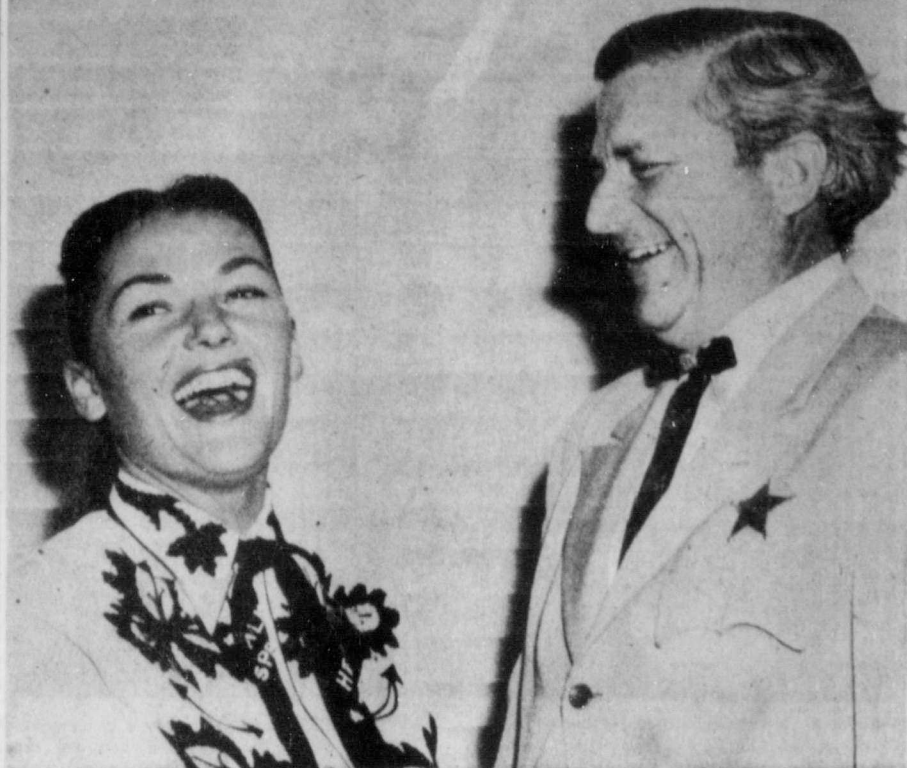

TOTAL LEVY ON property throughout the county for 1957-58 reached $29,444,791. Of this sum $8,179,445 was for general county purposes, $2,749,761 for city government purposes, $14,277,036 for school districts, and $4,238,549 for special districts in the county.

Comparison for 1957-58 property tax levies in the county with those for 1952-53 shows that the increase in levy is far in excess of the increase in population in the county, Arnold declared.

POPULATION OF the county now is 32 per cent greater than in 1952-53.

Per capita levy, county-wide, on property, is 42 per cent greater.

Total levy for county government purposes is up 70 per cent; for cities, up 49 per cent; for school districts, up 103 per cent.

Warning Issued By CHP on Safe Following Space

To assure safety when driving behind another car in traffic, there should be a minimum following distance of one car length for each ten miles of speed.

This advice was given motorists today by the California Highway Patrol in an appeal for assistance in reducing the number of traffic accidents caused by following too closely.

"LAST YEAR 5,083 following too closely violations were noted in the 89,571 fatal and injury accidents on our streets and highways," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Usually, a driver following too closely is also driving too fast for conditions and is unprepared for any sudden stop or change of action by the driver being followed."

"Drivers who follow the car ahead too closely fail to realize the physical laws involved," Caldwell stated. "Reaction time and distance necessary to stop the car at various speeds are laws we must consider if a safe distance behind the other car is to be maintained."

"A GOOD RULE-OF-THUMB is one car length for each ten miles of speed," the commissioner continued. "This will normally allow for safe stopping distance on dry pavement and a good reaction time."

"On wet or slippery pavements or under other adverse conditions, the distance should be increased accordingly."

Sandpiper Is Proving Popular, Officials Report

Early reservations are suggested for those who may desire fall occupancy in the new Sandpiper, own-your-own luxury apartments in Palm Desert, officials said today.

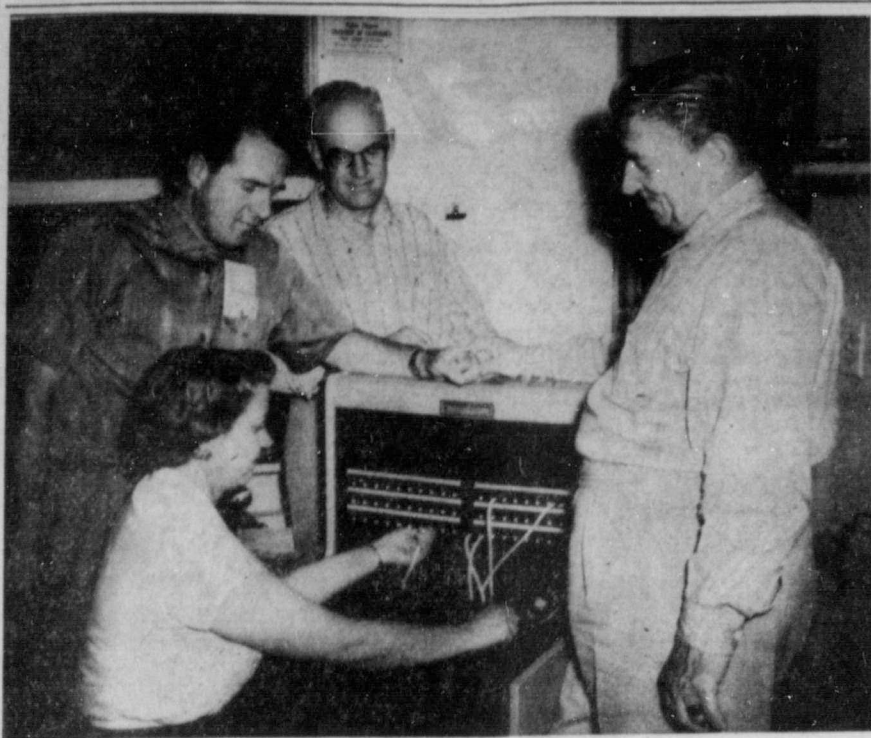

Offering a new concept in care-free leisure living, in individual garden apartments, the first 72 units of this eventual 600 unit development will be started within the next few weeks, it was stated by a spokesman for the developers.

Purchasers in the Sandpiper will enjoy pool, putting green, tennis courts, and complete country club facilities — plus all the personal care of maid service, linens, and full maintenance of a fine hotel. Residential privacy is offered with the care-free existence of the most luxurious resort.

Prices for the first garden unit apartments, consisting of 2 bedrooms - 2 baths - built-in kitchens, each with individual patio and view, start at $17,995.

Offices for the Sandpiper are open daily and Sunday, and are located in Palm Desert at El Paseo and Palms-to-Pines Highway. A free brochure is offered by writing to Box 571, Palm Desert.

Slick Chick

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — (UP) — Sharon Parker was duly crowned "Miss Slick Chick" of the Central New York Poultry Exposition after being judged the best dressed of the girls costumed to resemble live chickens.

New Telephone Answering Service Now in Operation

PALM SPRINGS — Installation of new equipment and inauguration of a new, complete answering service for the Palm Desert area was announced today by Marion Harris of Services Unlimited, who has offices in the Hal Kapp-Ted Smith building located at the corner of Highway 111 and Portola.

Featuring the very latest in answering equipment, the new service offers any subscriber in this area a line terminating at the switchboard. Extensions from any business or subscriber also can be answered, in case they are temporarily out of the office, or away from home.

JOINT - USER SERVICE also is available, whereby subscribers can use the telephone number of the Answering Service in their advertisements.

Emergency service also is provided, whereby a doctor can use this method to keep in constant touch with patients as to where he can be reached.

Another feature of the service will be offered vacationists during the summer.

Two Pool Permits Issued in Week

PALM DESERT—Two building permits for swimming pools, each with a $4,000 value, were issued last week to William Cowan, 74-351 Parocela, and Harvey Gerth, 73-450 Bursera Drive, according to records of the county building department office here.

ing the summer, where calls will be answered 24 hours a day, if so desired.

BESIDES HER NEW Answering Service, Services Unlimited offers secretarial service and complete mimeographing facilities.

One of the first Palm Desert concerns to take advantage of the new service is the Marshall Engineering Company's branch office in Palm Desert, in the Smith-Kapp building. This company is headed by K. Irving Marshall, civil, structural and mechanical engineer of Lake Arrowhead, and Stanley V. Shaylor of Palm Springs is representative for this area.

Two Face Theft Charges Here

Two men today faced theft charges after they were accused of taking $150 from a beer and hot dog stand at the Palm Springs road races Sunday.

Kenneth Allen, 51, of Santa Fe Springs, and Sam Pearson, 58, of Los Angeles, were booked on theft charges on a complaint signed by airport concessionaire Dale A. Stoner, police said.

Stoner said Allen and Pearson were $150 short in receipts after the road races. The two operated a beer and hot dog stand for Stoner.

Police said they found a total of about $170 in cash in their possession when they were arrested a few hours later.

Mrs. Boynton Jones to Head Cancer Drive

PALM DESERT — Mrs. Boynton F. Jones of Palm Desert has accepted the crusade and unit chairmanships for the American Cancer Society's 1958 fund drive for the Palm Desert - Rancho Mirage areas, it was announced today.

Co-chairmen named were Mrs. Viola Darnell in the Rancho Mirage area and Mrs. Gretchen Cheeseman in the Palm Desert area. Dr. P. W. Seals of Palm Desert has accepted the duties of treasurer for the drive.

OTHER VOLUNTEER workers assisting Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Cheeseman are Mesdames Fred Blades, Ralph Caplinger, Clarence Goodwin, Andrew Moseley, R. T. Pierson, E. C. Schill, P. W. Seals, Dudley Steele, Fred Stretch, Keith Crouse and Mr. Arthur Fields.

This year's educational and fund-raising Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society's Riverside County Branch will be dedicated to the more than 20,000 Californians who died of cancer last year. It is estimated that the lives of one-fourth of that number might have been saved if their cancers had been detected and treated in time.

"WE WILL FOLLOW two roads to our goal," Mrs. Jones said. "On the one hand, we will be pointing the way to earlier cancer detection through regular health checkups. On the other hand we will be helping speed the day when cancer is conquered by raising money for research."

"Just remember that most of the work in the American Cancer Society is done by volunteers, and that all monies contributed both in Riverside County and throughout the nation are used for the educational, research and service programs. Your contribution helps support the research being conducted in the leading universities in California. The fight against cancer is your fight and our fight. Help us stem the tide of cancer by sending your contributions to Dr. P. W. Seals, treasurer, Palm Desert."

Tomorrow is an important day. The beginning of Palm Spring's Desert Circus Week, a proud traditional event for our Village, displaying the heart of our community and this year the emotion is greater because it extends to welcome a neighbor, "1200 miles from Palm Springs—to Texas."

The colorful atmosphere of the days ahead will be no more spectacular than the fabulous imports shown by ROBINSON'S last week at the "Out of This World" fashion show at Thunderbird! A cosmopolitan people always has a special appreciation for the fine things given to us by the Europeans.

PRESENTED WITH the essence of finesse, were exciting casual separates, originally designed in France and Italy—for you, from Robinson's.

Wonderful silk-soft as a pillow—and as crisp as tissue paper, was France's choice of fabric for CAPRI's and blouse—matched with the same design—which was an intricate geometric pattern of circus colors on a background of white or natural.

THE CAPRI'S WERE easily fitted and divinely tailored for that "just right" fit. The blouse—that artistic blending of soft tailoring with an accent on femininity.

ALSO OF ALL SILK and with an unusual bordered print was a matching ensemble—this time from Italy. The border trim appeared at the most significant places on the smooth fitting CAPRI'S.

It was the blouse that made this costume most outstanding. Not tucked in—but falling freely past the waistline—flagging attention to just above the hip-line with the printed border all around the bottom.

Two Children's Matinees Set At Playhouse

Two special children's matinees at Palm Springs Playhouse will be one of the Desert Circus Week attractions. "Mr. Dooley, Jr." by Rose Franken, will be presented at 2:30 both afternoons with an admission price of $1.

To accommodate parents in the transportation of children to and from the Playhouse at the Polo Grounds, a special free bus will leave Tanner's, 1090 North Palm Canyon Drive, at 2 p.m., proceed south on Indian Avenue, picking up children standing on northwest corner of any street, east on Ramon and thence to the Playhouse. The bus will return children in the same manner after the performance to Tanners.

The play, which centers around the pet shop of Mr. Dooley, will feature two local children whose identity will be announced later in the week. A dog also plays an important role and its identity will be divulged at the same time.

SOUTHPORT, England—Ada Fisher, told by doctors when she was 16 that she had little time to live, celebrated her 101st birthday yesterday.

MUTUAL CONGRATULATIONS were in order when Frank Bogert, above, Palm Springs' newly-elected councilman and Joan Whitney, new Desert Circus queen, met at Desi Arnez' Western Hills Hotel at Indian Wells Country Club. Desert Circus, which this year tips its ten gallon hat in a salute to Texas, gets under way Wednesday and continues through Sunday. (Gayle Studio Photo.)

THOUSAND PALMS

By IZETTA HUNT

The entire community was shocked Wednesday evening when the news that Albert Cornelius had died at the Desert Hospital. Cornelius, Hal to so many, was a local Realtor, and had been in ill health for the past year or so.

He had always been prominent in all civic affairs and his latest projects were the lights and palms to improve Ramon Road and Highway 99 through this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Ossian, Ham Operator No. K6YMZ, are having a month's vacation at the El Descanso Motel, and are very much in love with this desert area, though their home is in Encinitas, Mexico. The Ossians' are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Griggs H. Carlton, of Rancho Mirage and Solano Beach, another ham operator. It is the plan of the Ossians' to locate somewhere in this area and set up a transmitter for ham operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cravatsof of West Covina, are other vacationists in this community this season. Recent guests of the Cravatsof was her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Cowan, and nephew, John, Jr., from Hobson, Mont. The Cowans returned to Montana to arrange affairs so they can permanently reside here in the desert.

'Freight Rate Controls Aid Public Mainly'

"Transportation rate controls have been imposed primarily to protect the public and not as some people believe, primarily to protect the carriers," a trucking industry spokesman pointed out here yesterday.

"You don't have to go way back to 1887 to find out what happens when you don't have rate controls in transportation," Guv. W. Rutland, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., president of the American Trucking Association, told a meeting of the Western Highway Institute held at the El Mirador Hotel.

ATTACKING CURRENT railroad legislative proposals in Congress which he said aim to strip the Interstate Commerce Commission of most of its power to regulate rates, Rutland said "We only need to go back to the period before 1935. At that time, the rapidly expanding trucking industry had reached a crisis. There was no interstate regulation of any kind—rates, operating authority or anything else," he recalled. "The result was chaos." Rutland pointed out. At that time, he said, it was not the trucking industry which screamed the loudest for rate control.

"IT WAS THE RAILROADS, joined by many shippers who found themselves boxed in, outfoxed and disorganized in attempting to get production to market in an orderly fashion.

"The railroads, out of their one hundred years of experience and the shippers out of their experience with regulated railroads, both knew that the only answer to orderly transportation lay in tight Federal control," Rutland said.

"Nobody likes to be 'regulated,' he added. "Everybody is in favor of a free market place. The great American ideal is the right to compete." But a great many people, he said, do not seem to understand that "the only way to guarantee a free market place is to have control by a public body over transportation rates."

Referring to the financial ills announced by a number of rail lines, especially in the East, Rutland said:

"Solve the railroad passenger problems and even the worst off of them will regain health."

"They make a nice profit on the freight traffic, but lose their shirts on passengers," he said.

NEW GOLDEN ERA FOR BASEBALL STARTS TODAY

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
The tradition of the Presidential first pitch out of the way, major league baseball breaks with its "trolley car" past today with an opening day program from the Boston Common to the Golden Gate.

Some 225,000 fans, encouraged by generally favorable weather, should turn out in eight cities to herald in the game's new coast-to-coast era. A new world champion, a new geographical alignment, some 20 new faces, and another 20 old faces in new uniforms all help to mark it as a pivotal opening day in baseball history.

Pivotal, because such spokesmen as Commissioner Ford Frick are proclaiming the dawn of a "golden era" while others insist too-rapid expansion carries seeds of the game's destruction. Exhibit A in the critics' list of arguments is the New York City area without a game on opening day for the first time since 1883.

Whatever the case, the pros and cons of the expansion issue are certain to be drowned out in the hoopla of the West Coast's grand opening between the transplanted Dodgers and Giants at San Francisco. A crowd of 23,600 will jam its way into Little Seals Stadium while a total of 110 reporters hang out the details of the historic festivities. Don Drysdale, a native Californian, has been named to start for the Dodgers against the Giants' Ruben Gomez.

Sharing the spotlight — at least locally — with the West Coast opener are the defending league champion Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees. The world champion Braves open before 46,000 at Milwaukee with Warren Spahn facing Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates while the American League champion Yankees are sending Don Larsen against Willard Nixon at Boston.

Here we go into Desert Circus Week . . . and the Texas invasion is already on . . . with more than 100 in the Village this weekend . . . and the first private planes due to arrive at Palm Springs airport this afternoon . . . where a royal welcome awaited them . . . Texas has never received such a salute from another state . . . let alone a little ole Village . . . and Texans find it right neighborly . . . Ray Ryan and his cohorts are doing a great job . . . which can be enhanced if the whole Village goes all out to make this the greatest Desert Circus ever known . . . Everyone in Western Clothes and Palm Springs hats . . . will add immeasurably to the background . . . and participation in the many events of the week will help . . . Certainly everyone can buy an Immunity Button and join in the fun of Kangaroo Court . . . Let's make this a thunderous Salute to Texas . . .

Now for a quick run down on the Bing Crosby show Sunday night . . . when the Chi Chi Starlite Room was crowded with all it could hold . . . around 700 people . . . maybe more . . . The Sports Car dinner was in progress in the Blue Room . . . and altogether Chi Chi served 1100 dinners last night . . .

Bing was genial and friendly and happy . . . and sang many songs including "In a Little Spanish Town" his opener . . . "Old Man River" . . . and "Swanee" . . . He also served as an auctioneer . . . acted as straight man for some of the acts . . . juggled Indian Clubs with Bobby Winters the clown juggler . . . and dueted with Rosemary Clooney . . . Phil Harris sang all his favorites "Row, Row, Row" . . . "That's What I Like About the South" . . . and assisted with the auction . . . He also removed the shirts from two men without them taking off their coats . . . The two men Jack Ross (who with his orchestra was down here from S. F. Fairmont to play for the Out of This World Tournament at Thunderbird) . . . and Bob Goldwater of Phoenix . . . paid for the privilege of doing this restrained and effortless strip tease . . . Jose Greco and his troupe danced and the Amin Brothers — acrobats were sensational . . . Auctioned was a painting by John Morris which was a clown painting of Crosby and brought $1525 from Elsinore Machris . . . a diamond cross from Andrea's that sold for $1000 to Larry Scott . . . a registered miniature poodle for which Ray Ryan paid $1000; a TV set that went to Earl Buckingham for $400; a golf cart to Ray Ryan for $1800 . . . an oil painting by O.E.L. Graves that was sold to Ann Kate Lewis for $1102 . . . a lot at Silver Spur . . . $3750, Eddie Silverman . . . a membership at Indian Wells . . . $1000, Ray Ryan . . . The big show which went on until after midnight . . . was a benefit for the new Catholic Church at Palm Desert . . .

The lights were blazing up on the hillside in Little Tuscany Saturday night as Flo and Wally Brunmark entertained at cocktails and dinner . . . with the prime rib dinner served at flower-decorated tables set up on the patio and poolside areas . . . where guests could look down on the colorful sparkle of lights in the Village . . .

This party was unusual in that the hostess had suggested that guests wear chemise dresses . . . and quite a few did . . . Of course, there were beautiful ones like the Italian import worn by Nellis Hunt . . . and the silken taffeta trapeze dress worn by the Brunmark's houseguest Mrs. Stephen Maher of Los Angeles . . . There were the straight chemise, dressed trimmed with bows . . . and worn with long strings of beads . . . like the hostess wore . . .

Two matching numbers came from J. W. Robinson . . . one apricot and one gray . . . I had one and Peg Waters the other . . . Jan King, who was escorted by Pierre Bouscaren J. W. Robinson Co. manager, wore a chemise made for her by Robinsons . . . but it was made of burlap . . . and had a matching hat . . . Vicki Malouf, whose husband Billy owns those 100's of Mode O' Day stores . . . wore a Mode O' Day chemise dress . . . But the real excitement occurred when Virginia Dollard and Grace Kemper arrived wearing sack dresses that were really made out of Ace Hi feed sacks . . . This was a fun party . . .

Special guests were the Stephen Mahers of San Francisco . . . Others included the Edward Bishops, George Wheelers, Gordon Prentices . . . George Robersons, Dolph Oberfelds, Edith and Dick Edwards . . . the Henry Dollards, Billy Maloufs, Ben Gales . . . Fred Karlens, Al Hunts, John Costellos . . . Fred Albertsons, S. P. When possible, save time and fuel by cooking vegetables in the bottom of a double boiler while you make the cream sauce for them in the upper pan.

Cooked and chopped prunes add flavor to spice cake and help keep the cake from drying.

For crisp celery stalks, float them in cold water in which a teaspoon of sugar has been dissolved.

Mrs. Rudolph (Florence) Halm, 52, died Saturday night at 10:30 p.m. in St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, where she had been in a coma for many days. Death was due to cancer.

She was the wife of Rudolph Halm, head of Pacific Coast Hanger Manufacturing Co., with plants in Los Angeles, Seattle, Indiana and Georgia. They had been married for 15 years. They had been coming to Palm Springs since before World War II and owned a home at the corner of Paseo de Marica and Mesquite.

Interment will be at Holy Cross.

Juices left over from canned fruits can be used instead of water or milk to give added flavor and nutrients to gelatin and puddings.

Eloise O'Donnell Becomes Bride

A full military wedding, complete with four Honor Guards with the men in their dress whites, was an impressive affair when Eloise O'Donnell married Lieutenant Joseph A. Pusi, March 29, at 8:30 p.m. at the Naval Base Chapel in Honolulu.

Given in marriage by Commodore H. E. Baker, the bride was lovely in a sea blue hand knit dress with matching accessories and elbow-length white gloves. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Beverly Bray and best man was Lieutenant Forest Jones. Chaplain Carlo performed the ceremony.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Submarine Officer's Club at the Naval Base in Pearl Harbor.

The newlyweds honeymooned near Hilo, Hawaii at Kilauea Military Camp located in Hawaii National Park, and spent a week at the Biltmore hotel.

Upon their return from Honolulu, the couple will reside at 2204 Grand Avenue in San Diego, at which time Lieutenant Pusi will leave the navy to enter the electronics field.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the new Mrs. Pusi was associated with the Security First National Bank in Palm Springs for several years.

At Doll House

Recent dinner guests at the Doll House were Mrs. Harry James (Betty Grable) and her two daughters of Beverly Hills.

Carter Home Setting for Card Party

The William Carter home in Bermuda Dunes was the spectacular setting for the Panhellenic dessert and party on Thursday afternoon. This long, low, modern house spreads along the top of the highest dune. Below wide flagstone terraces, centered with an oval pool, lies the lake with its palm island. Dominating the far view is the cascading waterfall. These and other sweeping views of distant dunes drifted with colorful wild flowers framed in the floor-to-ceiling glass doors, made it difficult for the bridge players to concentrate on their game.

The purpose of this gathering was to raise funds to assist outstanding desert area students interested in continuing their education. Money usually paid by the members for luncheon was collected and placed in this fund. Refreshments were furnished by committee members. Chocolate, coconut, orange, date, spice, and sunshine cakes made a luscious array. Cakes not used for refreshments were sold and the proceeds added to the fund.

There were numerous door prizes given by members to add to the fun. In addition to these were two donated by Ernie Dunlevie to welcome the visitors to rapidly developing Bermuda Dunes in which this home is situated.

So successful was the affair, it is planned to make it an annual event. Those serving on the committee were: Mrs. James O'Reilly, Robert Schlesinger, Chauncey Needham, Val Blatz, Randall Henderson, John Lytle, Edward Ruge, George Ripley, John Vale, Rene DeVaranne, Kay Oleson, Wilbur Lucas, Russell Perkins, Frank Ewing, John Bernet, and H. S. Winkler.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, president, announced the final meeting of the season will be held May 8. At this time officers will be chosen for the next year.

Lu-Ton-Da Camp Fire Ceremonial

When Lu-Ton-Da Camp Fire Girls held their ceremonial at the home of Guardian Mrs. Frank Hendricks on 1460 Fiesta Rd., it was impressive. The girls entered singing; the flag pledge was led by Virginia Smaling; and ranks' explanation was by Noele Hendrickson.

A candle was lit for Camp Fire's 48th birthday, followed by "Work, Health and Love and the Seven Crafts." The out-going officers were thanked for a job well done. They were president, Patricia Payne; vice president, Ann Baddour; secretary, Linda Davis; treasurer, Margaret Soran. Incoming officers are president, Noele Hendrickson; vice president, Linda Dewey; secretary, Sandra Keith; treasurer, Virginia Smaling.

Girls passing their first rank, which is Trail Seeker's, were Linda Dewey, Sandra Keith and Virginia Smaling. Due to illness Susan Stovall was unable to pass her second rank of Wood Gathers in January, and her certificate was given to her at this time by Mrs. Raymond Baddour. Birth-day charms were given by Mrs. Richard Dewey. Breads and other awards by Mrs. Hendrickson; also, two swimming awards and a three-year award were presented to Linda Dewey. Prizes were given to girls selling the most peanuts: Noele Hendrickson; 2nd, Linda Davis; 3rd, Patricia Payne and Ann Baddour.

Decorations were by Susan Stovall and Noele Hendrickson, and the refreshments were made and served by the girls, who later surprised parents and guests with skits, songs, and piano solos.

There were a few wildflower arrangements and one of the miniature entries used a tiny pair of ceramic slippers as vases.

There was such variety and such quantity that judges had difficulty in making selections. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willard, and Mrs. Veloma Naldron, Indio florists; Mrs. Betty Dudley, formerly of Palm Springs, now of Alhambra, acted as judges.

Winners were awarded ribbons as follows:

Rock and miniature arrangements—1. Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, Bonsai Jap dwarf red maple and Bamboo; 2. Elizabeth Gardner, Chinese elm seedling; 3. Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, miniature 33-year-old maple.

A wildflower arrangement of desert verbenas by Norma Simonson won an award.

Wealth of Beauty and Color In Garden Club Flower Show

The fragrance of roses pervaded the air and the big sheltered veranda of the Desert Inn looked like a flower garden Saturday afternoon as the Palm Springs Garden Club held its annual Flower Show.

There was a profusion of roses in every color, and their perfection and beauty was amazing.

There were velvety red roses so dark they were almost black; all shades of pink, ivory and white, yellow and the exciting clear orange rose that is the Fred Edmunds. A fine example of the latter was the prize-winning arrangement from the Bennett gardens, arranged in a Lowestoft bowl.

An eye-catching arrangement was the bouquet of deep blue pansies, that were charming in a blue glass bowl. There was a simple arrangement of white roses and a single white camellia in a small white holder, with a white porcelain goddess alongside. The columbines were crisp and exotic, with a mountain freshness.

There was a quaint bouquet of Johnny-jump-ups in an old-fashioned teapot, and an array of purple salphagiosis. Hibiscus, sweet peas, iris, snapdragons, pansies, daisies and petunias, bright nasturtiums, carnations, were all cut from Palm Springs gardens.

It was difficult to decide which was the most effective, two perfect rosebuds intertwined in a bud vase . . . or a cornucopia that spilled a wealth of roses that shaded from palest to deepest pink . . . or the nostalgic Dainty Bess that is so like the wild roses.

Oyster Casserole Is Lenten Meal

A delectable oyster casserole makes a good company dish during Lent. Arrange layers of toasted bread cubes, oysters and celery alternately in a casserole. Make a medium-thick white sauce and season with paprika, dry mustard, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce and a dash of lemon juice to sharpen the flavor. Pour the sauce over the oyster combination and top with bread crumbs. Bake until bubbly and brown on top.

Writers Hear Literary Agent

Otis Burton Cannon, well known literary agent, critic and counselor, of Hollywood and Palm Springs, spoke to the Writers' Guild at their regular meeting Thursday evening, on — writing techniques, preparation of manuscripts and sales.

Cannon referred to himself as "a dealer in merchandise—mainly manuscripts," giving his listeners many valuable points to consider in building their stories and articles to produce marketable manuscripts. He spoke especially of the sales potential in the short story and novel as used in the movie and television fields.

A lively question and answer period followed this informative talk.

New B&PW Club Receives Charter at Sunday Luncheon

Flower decked tables in the diningroom at the Tennis Club Sunday carried Spring inside and made a beautiful setting for a delightful luncheon when the Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club received its Charter and officially became a member of the National Federation.

Fern Scott, president-elect of the sponsoring club, the Desert B&PW Club of Cathedral City, gave the welcome with response by Fern Laurance, president of the new Palm Springs Club.

A message to the new club members, and the presentation of a beautifully framed Charter was made by Hazel Erickson, health and safety chairman of California Federation of B&PW Clubs. Marion Monette, Southern District President installed the new officers in a charming way, presenting each with a bracelet containing a gay little charm which represented some part in their duties as an officer. Helen Hester, president of the Indio B&PW Club initiated the new members.

An entertaining young singer Nanci Gardner drew enthusiastic applause with her songs, one of which was "The Golden Key" sung especially to Fern Laurance president of the new club. Miss Gardner was accompanied at the piano by Wynne Hammond. Special presentations to the Palm Springs Club included a beautiful gavel presented by Marion Monette president of Southern District; a guest book presented by Eleanor Massei, president of Riverside County Council; a record book on parliamentary law presented by Emma Peters, past district president, and a gold Federation pin presented to the new president by Estelle Reutlinger, president of the sponsoring Desert B&PW Club.

A number of officers from B&PW Clubs throughout the Southern District were present including Norma Hall, president-elect of Southern District B&PW Clubs and Mary Billick San Diego County Council president, as well as local guests which included city manager R. W. Peterson and Mrs. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Irvine (he is president of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce, all of whom were introduced by Estelle Reutlinger, president of the sponsoring club.

A smooth running program was due to Charter Party chairman Susan House and her committee from the Desert B&PW Club.

New Twist for Filet of Sole

SUN VALLEY, Idaho—A specialty of the house at Sun Valley Lodge makes a fancy party dish for Friday dinners. It's filet of sole with champagne.

In a saucepan, put some whole pickling spice, 1/2 cup court bouillon (fish broth), 1/2 cup sherry, 1/2 cup champagne, 1 small onion sliced, salt and white pepper to taste and juice from 1/2 lemon. Bring to boil for 2 minutes. Add 3 ounces of filet of sole and simmer 4 minutes.

Serve with hollandaise sauce, wedges of lemon and tiny boiled potatoes. Top the sole with sliced mushrooms.

New Tricks for Green Peas

Peas can be a versatile vegetable and lend themselves to party fare. Try serving them in these new ways:

Saute a shredded onion in butter and pour the onion-butter on peas.

Saute sliced almonds, Brazil nuts, or bread crumbs in butter and toss with hot, frozen or canned peas.

Season them with finely chopped chives or green onions.

Serve them with rice or mushrooms.

Add cream, salt and pepper and dash of nutmeg before serving.

Add Cheese to French Toast

A hearty winter breakfast features cheese French toast.

Combine 2 eggs, beaten slightly, with 2/3 cup milk and 1/4 teaspoon salt in a shallow bowl. Melt 1/4 cup shortening in a skillet. Dip 8 slices enriched bread into egg mixture, turning them to coat both sides. Brown on one side. Turn bread and sprinkle 1 cup grated sharp cheese on top. Remove when cheese is melted and underside is browned. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

IN MORNING RITES at the Lutheran Church, Saturday, Joanne Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cameron, became the bride of Jerry Edward Leheldt.

Leheldt-Cameron Wedding Vows Recited Saturday

Three-foot-tall baskets of glad-toli and stock, on either side of the fireplace, and white tapered candles in the background made an attractive setting for the eleven o'clock Saturday morning wedding of Joanne Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. (Burt) Cameron of 840 Avenida Evelita Avenue and Jerry Edward Leheldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leheldt Sr. of No. 5 Karlisa Cove.

The wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents with Reverend Walter H. Reuning, minister of the Lutheran Church performing the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white tulle ballerina length dress with matching headpiece which caught up her short veil. She carried a white prayer book covered with a white orchid holding streamers of white ribbon and fern.

Serving the bride as bridesmaid was Carol Wrathall and the little niece of the bride, Kim Leonsio, acted as flower girl. Best man was Dino R. DiGrandi.

Following the wedding, luncheon was served in the home along with a beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake. Joanne is well known in Palm Springs, having attended grade school and is a graduate of Palm Springs High School. Both she and her new husband are employed by the Telephone Company.

The young couple left on a week's honeymoon and upon their return will reside at 537 El Placer Road.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Leonsio of San Diego, Mrs. Ella Jeglum and family, Alma Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Glosser, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Majors, Joann Beattie and Annie Shilstad, all of Long Beach.

Proper Eye Care Called Beauty Aid

Eye-care experts say straining our blinkers can mar our beauty. Over-using the eyes can cause wrinkles, shadows, circles and fatigue, say researchers for an eye-drop manufacturer (Muriel). That late afternoon slump also may be due to eye strain, they added.

The experts gave these tips for sparkling eyes:

Get plenty of sleep, eat a balanced diet and drink lots of water. General physical condition largely determines the eyes' strength.

Have a doctor check your eyes once a year.

Rest your eyes several times a day by closing them and gently massaging each side of the forehead.

Avoid reading in a moving vehicle, in poor light, or when your eyes are tired.

Avocado Whip

Avocado honey whip makes an unusual dessert. The recipe comes from the California Foods Research Institute.

Cut avocados into halves and remove seed and skin. Force enough fruit through a sieve to measure 2 1/2 cups. Combine with 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Blend thoroughly. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and fold into avocado mixture. Combine with 1 cup whipped cream and 1/4 cup finely chopped maraschino cherries. Pour into refrigerator tray, put in freezing compartment and freeze until firm. Serves 4 to 6.

Honey adds flavor and gives ham a golden glaze. Brush it on during the last half hour of baking.

"I know of no greater purpose for which voluntary funds have been collected than the United Jewish Appeal. The Appeal is doing a great constructive work. The word 'philanthropy' should not be synonymous with 'charity'. Its original meaning was 'love of man'. This is the meaning which the United Jewish Appeal is restoring by helping to save and rebuild millions of lives."

DAVID BEN-GURION

Since 1948 the United Jewish Appeal has helped the people of Israel take in nearly a million newcomers and start them on the way to a new life. In 1958 the

Lucille, Desi To Be Honored By Culver City

CULVER CITY — Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, two of television's best known stars with their own comedy show on CBS-TV, have their home in the desert but now are considered residents of this community also and will be made honorary co-mayors of Culver City on Saturday morning, May 3, when this city celebrates its 41st birthday.

The two television stars are considered residents of Culver City, too, following their recent purchase of the RKO studios here. They will attend a community pancake breakfast on May 3 and accept the honorary title in a special ceremony which will be emceed by George Murphy, long a movie star and who now is associated in an executive capacity with Desilu Productions.

The event is being sponsored by the Culver City Chamber of Commerce with the breakfast expected to attract more than 5,000 people. The Mayor, City Council and other city and civic dignitaries will attend and participate in the ceremony.

Breakfast will begin at 7 a.m., and continue until 11 a.m., with Miss Ball and Arnaz arriving at 10 a.m., for the honorary co-mayor ceremony. The National Guard and American Legion also will participate in the ceremony.

Red Cross Leaders Urge Added Giving to United Fund

The most expensive part of Red Cross disaster operation—rehabilitation—is under way in north central California. With good weather easing the flood threat, American Red Cross workers are concentrating on surveying the damage to homes and small businesses and taking applications from families for assistance in meeting disaster-caused needs, local officials reported today.

United Fund leaders are being contacted to urge maximum contributions to current campaigns. With the United Fund—Red Cross fund drive going into its last days in Palm Springs, returns show only about three-quarters of goal received, according to Homer Hilton, UF chairman.

SHELBY LANGFORD, Palm Springs Branch, Red Cross chairman said that Red Cross is not asking contributions for the present emergency. "We strongly urge people," he said, "to get their normal contributions into United Fund to meet the many needs that face us."

Latest revised figures from Red Cross disaster staff and volunteers throughout the saturated region show that 369 families of the 4,932 affected by flood waters already have turned to Red Cross for aid.

THE UNDRAMATIC long-haul job, which takes about 85 percent of the Red Cross disaster relief dollar, includes repairing homes and assisting small one-family businesses, replacing essential furniture, clothing, and occupational tools, food, and medical and nursing care for the ill and injured.

The cost to Red Cross of this relief operation will total around $300,000, Ed Gully, director of the relief operation, said today. He emphasized that all such disaster help given by the Red Cross is an outright gift, not a loan.

RED CROSS STILL is operating seven shelters for California families unable to return to their homes. A total of 553 persons are in four shelters in north central California and in the three operating in Southern California, at Costa Mesa, near Santa Ana, and in the San Diego area. Another 840 persons are being housed at Red Cross expense in auto courts at San Jose and Brentwood.

Incomplete damage figures reported by Red Cross disaster workers on the scene are 20 homes destroyed, 2,332 houses damaged, 247 small businesses and 172 other buildings damaged.

Exhibition Book Now Available For Exposition

A 220-page book, listing 18 divisions of competition at the 19th annual Southern California Exposition and County Fair at Del Mar, is available on request, free of charge, Mrs. Lorene Bohn, entry supervisor, announced yesterday. Exposition dates are June 27 through July 6.

Previous Del Mar exhibitors will automatically receive copies. Premium offerings total $136,632.50. Cash premiums and ribbons are awarded in light horses, swine, dairy goats, agriculture, floriculture, bees and honey, poultry, rabbits, Future Farmers, 4-H Club, national horse show, beef and dairy cattle, sheep, feature exhibits, horticulture, home arts, minerals and mining, pigeons, and art exhibit.

Ribbons and medals are given in the hobby show, dairy products, international photo salon, numismatic junior horse show, and minerals and mining.

The American lotus is safe to eat. The rootstalks have a pleasant meaty flavor, suggestive of sweet potatoes. The acorn-shaped seeds taste something like chestnuts. They can be made into bread.

Calelectric Sets Open House at New Facilities

California Electric Power Company will hold an open house at its recently completed general office and general service center in the San Bernardino-Rialto area April 23 through 26, the company announced today.

"The general public and all Calelectric customers are cordially invited to visit these new facilities which are the headquarters for the entire utility operation," Carl C. Ernst, Calelectric president, said.

Calelectric's new general office is located at 2885 Foothill Boulevard in San Bernardino while the general service center is located at 300 North Pepper Avenue in Rialto. These adjoining facilities are located just off Foothill Boulevard (Highway 66) between the business centers of Rialto and San Bernardino.

Open house hours on April 23, 24 and 25 (Wednesday, Thursday and Friday) will be from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m., while Saturday, April 26, open house hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

During these times all parts of the new $2,600,000 installation will be open for public inspection.
